

Take a real keyhole case, rescale its Pi groups along a generator, ask the model for e^* : the predicted eccentricity does not move (flat lines)

★ = a real keyhole case from the dataset ($\epsilon=0$).

Solid = rescale along a generator (e^* held). Dashed = rescale along the Ke direction (e^* changes).